

THE LANCET Neurology Conference

Preclinical neurodegenerative disease: towards prevention and early diagnosis

London, UK | October 19–21, 2016

Sponsorship and Exhibition Opportunities

THE CONFERENCE

The clinical symptoms of neurodegenerative diseases can arise decades after the onset of neuronal damage. By the time the patient receives a diagnosis, it might be too late to intervene and modify the advanced pathological state of disease. Researchers are now focusing on preventing and stopping the pathological processes in the brain at an earlier, asymptomatic state.

This conference aims to disseminate cutting-edge findings on preclinical neurodegenerative diseases—including Alzheimer’s disease, Parkinson’s disease, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, and Huntington’s disease. The event will provide a unique platform for specialists to come together across disciplines for an authoritative discussion of the methodological, regulatory, and ethical considerations of research in people at asymptomatic states of neurodegenerative disease.

The event will also have a translational focus, exploring genetic susceptibility, epidemiology and risk factors, neuronal vulnerability, biomarkers and early diagnosis, and disease prevention in healthy individuals with both pharmacological and non-pharmacological interventions.

TOPICS INCLUDE

- Genetic factors, cellular pathways, and neuronal vulnerability
- Environmental factors, epidemiology, and primary prevention
- Biomarkers and early diagnosis
- Prevention through therapeutics
- Trials; regulatory and ethical considerations
